THREE LECTURES SATURDAY.

Hookworm Expert Addressed Sumter Audiences Saturday.

Dr. Charles W. Stiles spoke here three times Saturday and at 5 o'clock examined a number of school children for the dread parasite that is sapping the very life out of them. He found unmistakable evidences of the disease in several of those examined.

His lectures were all illustrated and very impressive. He spoke in a very blunt manner and brought some of our short-comings home to us. He had no apologies to make for his bluntness, however. He was engaged in the work of saving precious human life, and that needed no apology.

He gave the life history of the parasite that the negro introduced into this country, illustrating it with the stereopticon.

The lecture at night had to be cut short owing to his having to leave on the 9:25 train that night. It was a treat to have him address a Sumter audience, and the seed he sowed here will, no doubt, bear fruit in the shape of better sanitation and health.

T. H. CANTEY ARRESTED.

Main Street Grocer Accused of Selling Booze.

A case was made out against T. H. Canthey Saturday afternoon for selling whiskey. He was brought before Magistrate Harby where he waived a preliminary and was bound over to court in the sum of $300. Those charging him with selling had the whiskey that was bought. A search was made of the place and another pint found.

Mr. B. A. Hussey Dead.

Mr. B. A. Hussey, one of the oldest citizens in the county died at the Sumter Hospital Friday night and was buried Saturday afternoon at 3:30 from the home of his son, Mr. Tom Hussey, on Kendrick street, interment at the Sumter cemetery.

More than 1,000 executions have been put in the hands of the sheriff. The delinquents will have to be on the lookout for Deputy Sykes. He'll get you if you haven't paid those taxes.

Sumter has the automobile fever. Never before in the history of the town have so many new automobiles been brought in. Several new ones arrive every day. The small "choo choos" seem to be a thing of the past, only large touring cars and handsome runabouts are coming here now.

Sumter has a great many more automobiles than are registered as the law requires.

Mr. C. H. Cuttino has opened up his real estate office in the Osteen building, occupying part of the store occupied by Forshee & Company.

The committee in charge of raising funds for foreign missions from the Presbyterian church reported Sunday that $1,025 had been subscribed, which is far beyond any other contribution made for that cause by the church.

A lady was left at the Atlantic Coast Line depot again Monday just for the lack of a porter to call the trains. The young man who starts the train was not at fault. He should be given help. The railroad authorities cannot get it in their heads that Sumter is of enough importance to give sufficient help to properly handle the passengers. A suit for damages will come up, and it will be too late then.

Dr. Lamar, of Nashville, Tenn., will begin his meeting at the First Baptist church on the third Sunday in April, being the 17th of the month. Sumter is fortunate in having this opportunity of hearing this noted divine.

A mule being driven by a negro fell at the corner of Liberty street and Salem avenue last Saturday afternoon. A large crowd congregated in a few minutes, attracted by the cruel treatment of the driver, who attempted to get the mule up by beating it. At first the driver did not take the animal from the wagon, but frayed it most unmercifully. He then liberated it and repeated the fraying and it got up. Such cases should be handled by the courts. Sumter, along with its other benevolent societies should have a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

There was a good attendance upon the Farmers Union at Cain's Mill Friday. Every local was represented, and a good crowd of the citizens living near there were out and served a delightful picnic dinner. President A. J. A. Peritt, of the COURT CONVENED MONDAY.

CAPT. W. C. DAVIS, SPECIAL JUDGE PRESIDING.

Owing to the illness of Judge Klugh, But One Week of Court Will be Held at This Time—Charge to Grand Jury.

From The Daily Item, April 4.

The criminal court convened here this morning, Special Judge W. C. Davis, of Manning, presiding. Solicitor P. H. Stoll and Stenographer L. E. Wood were both in their places.

Some delay was had at the opening of court by the inability of the Sheriff to find one of the grand jurors. Another juror was drawn and the jury sworn in.

The charge to the grand jury was a very strong one. Their attention was forcibly called to the duty that devolved upon them as jurors. They were instructed to examine the books of the several officers, to look into the matter of the roads, to investigate violations of the law and to especially keep up with the magistrates. If the grand jury will keep closer tab on the magistrates so many cases that there is nothing in, will not be sent up, and more cases that should come up will be forthcoming.

The five cases against E. A. Jackson were continued, waiting for the decision of the Supreme Court in the case that went before it on appeal.

The case against L. A. Welsh was continued, owing to the absence of the prosecutor, Mr. A. W. Crosswell, who is sick and unable to be in court. This case was tried at the last term of court, but a new trial was granted.

The case against Arthur Pinckney was put on the contingent docket. The defendant is serving several sentences and this case of forgery is held up during good behavior.

Case against R. M. Barwick, murder, continued under appeal.

Case against Caesar Meyers, carrying concealed weapons, ordered remanded to magistrate for trial.

The grand jury reported true bills in the case of Charles Jenkins and J. D. Jenkins, charged with murder, and William Taylor, grand larceny.

As we went to press the jury was hearing the case against Taylor.

INDEPENDENT ORDER B'NAI B'RITH.

Washington, April 3.—"The order must continue to be the rallying ground for all Jews, regardless of political or religious opinions," declared Adolph Kraus of Chicago, president of the Independent Order of B'Nai B'Rith in his message to the grand lodge convention which began here today.

A tremendous dynamic force, Mr. Kraus said, had been at work in the camp of Israel. "Passions have been aroused, schisms have been created, and where peace and harmony are so essential, strife and discord reign. We have the Zionist and the anti-Zionist; the orthodox and reform, and their differences constantly widening their antipathy is steady growing. Gentlemen, it is the province of the order to continue the path which it has pursued from its inception. It must now favor or discountenance movement within our ranks on which Jewish opinions are pronounced and varied."

Mr. Kraus' message to the convention contained an account of the work that had been done during the past five years in aid of Jews at home and abroad, of responses to appeals on behalf of the suffering of the conditions of the order in various parts of the world, besides discussing many questions of importance to the organization.

The total membership now is 33,123, a gain of 22 per cent, in the five years since the last convention while the amount paid to widows and orphans during that period amounted to $1,243,070 and to charity $1,145,118.

The president said the problem what to do with newly arrived immigrants was one of increasingly serious importance. Something should be done to distribute the immigrants in the badly congested districts in the seaport cities, before they become permanently settled. Strong ground was taken in opposition to the white slave traffic and combating it, he declared to be one of the most important of the organization's undertakings.

A pathetic picture was drawn of the conditions in Galicia, where the poverty of the people, Mr. Kraus said, was indescribable. It was not strange, he added, that among the Galician Jews, the recruiting agent finds many not too reluctant additions to the army of "white slaves."

"We are fighting the white slave traffic," said the president. "Let us help to close up the markets which furnish the victims."

Mr. R. W. Shand, of the Columbia Bar, has been appointed special referee by the Supreme Court to take testimony in the case of the Seaboard Air Line vs. the Railroad Commission.

The first meeting of the asylum commission will be held on Friday, at which time a chairman will be elected and other matters attended to.

The Vestry of the Church of the Holy Cross, Stateburg, hereby offer a reward of fifty ($50.00) dollars for proof to convict the party or parties who threw a rock at and broke one of the stained glass windows of the said church.

F. M. DWIGHT, M. D., Chairman of the Vestry.

TWO SHANTY CARS BURNED.

Blaze at Coast Line Saturday Night Called Out the Department.

Last Saturday night about 8 o'clock the fire department responded to a call from the railroad and turned out to find that two shanty cars occupied by the negro laborers building the pass-siding beyond the coal chute were on fire. A flat car and a box car near by caught but were put out before much damage was done to them. The two shanties were a complete wreck, however.

Dr. Stiles' lecture was in progress when the alarm was sent in, consequently the fire bell was not rung, but the whistles of locomotives at the station made known the fact that something unusual was wrong and the glare revealed what it was.

Mr. Reardon was the one found and he was sworn in as a grand juror.
